ADMIN LADIES TAKE ON ROCK LAYING

The girls from the office got up from behind their desks and onto the Main Street to help out our town maintenance crew with some rock laying.

With the maintenance crew currently short staffed and busier than ever, the admin team were more than happy to lend a hand and get stuck in! It might not be part of the usual admin job description but around here many hands make light work.

ROSE GARDEN MULCHING

We would like to thank everyone who helped out mulching the rose garden last Sunday. With kids in tow and plenty of spikey rose bushes to battle it was certainly a team effort!

Raffle Ticket #54 – Zeta was the lucky winner in our handmade Travel Bag raffle.

Thank you to our community and the wider community for your support.

YTD has been very busy in the sewing room, community projects being the making of curtains for the Caravan Park on-site accommodation rooms, mending of a flag or two and making a replacement gear stick boot.

Our big project which had many steps was making travel bags taking 3 months to complete. The result was outstanding, well-done ladies.

Many smaller projects were also sewn up eg. Hair scrunchies, table runners, potholders, nesting baskets, zippy pouches, drawstring bags etc.

The sewing room group will be doing a display at the Hub for Seniors' Week in November to showcase our work. We will also have a few little items for sale.

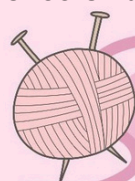

I will be stepping back from sewing for a few months to take on my other community love BOWLS. A special Thankyou to my group for your commitment, ideas and magnificent work achieved so far in 2026.

Planning ahead:

Projects for 2027 – Making a bucket hat from scratch, measuring, drafting your own pattern, cutting and constructing.

Community project – assembling and sewing the quilt top in remembrance of local people who served in WW services. We may have to call on a few volunteers to help with this project.

See ya when I'm looking at ya
Cheers Kay

VINTAGE RADIOS FIND A NEW HOME AT THE HOOD-PENN MUSEUM 📻

The Shire has welcomed an exciting new addition to its collection, with the purchase of 32 vintage radios, all in working condition. The collection was acquired from Justin Fallon which was part of the Bert Hayes' Boyup Brook Classic Car Museum (which has recently closed down) and consist of radios dating back to the older days. They have now been brought for Hood-Penn Museum and are currently on display in the passage leading to Coopers Garage Museum and can be seen by visitors.

However, they can't stay there for too long, as there are plans to redevelop Hood-Penn Museum later this year. During this redevelopment process, the radios will also find their own place in the museum display.

This will make the new collection a wonderful addition to the museum and a good reason to give it a visit. You may even recognize some radios resembling those of your parents or grandparents!!
